UM STUDENT TO SPEAK IN MISSOULA

MISSOULA---

Fred W. Traber, a 21-year-old University of Montana junior from Great Falls, will address the members of the Missoula Rotary Club at / the clubs noon luncheon Wednesday (Nov. 26) at the Florence Hotel.

Traber's discussion will be sponsored through the UM Student Ambassador Program. He was graduated from Great Falls High School in 1967 and is majoring in accounting at UM.

Purpose of Traber's talk will be to explain the Student Ambassador Program and provide an insight for Missoulians into what student life on the Missoula campus is really like.

"Poor publicity," Traber said, "has lead to a very poor and distorted image of today's college student. Through the Student Ambassador Program we are exposing young people to adults around the state. In this way we are trying to show that we're people, too."

Traber will discuss the problems students are facing on many college campuses today and the issues that young people are interested in. He also will present a look at campus facilities through the eyes of a student. A question and answer period will follow his talk.

The Student Ambassador Program, which is cosponsored by the Associated Students at UM and the UM Alumni Association, has presented seven such programs this fall in different areas of the state. Traber is chairman of the program.
